WE SERVE YOU

Growing businesses often reach the point where they need a CFO to handle financing strategies, budgets, and be the sounding board before big decisions are made. However, small businesses typically cannot afford a full-time CFO. Having a certified and experienced CFO allows small to mid-sized business owners to introduce more sophisticated ways of leveraging their critical data.

Olsen Thielen's Controller/CFO Advisory Services can effectively provide the right cost-effective services you need. In fact, by outsourcing the CFO position, you are often able to leverage the experience, knowledge, and processes of an entire team of seasoned professionals, instead of just a single CFO. Olsen Thielen has a proven track record of assisting companies in their finance and technology areas.

We can help if:

- You have projects on your "someday list" that are the same as last year
- You're tired of someone that doesn't speak the same language as you
- You value perspective from someone that has been involved with many different organizations
- You are energized by individuals that are forward thinkers and can see the BIG picture
- You have asked yourself "What does a good finance and/or technology function look like?"

Our level of involvement is adaptable with your needs (use us as needed) and can range from:

Our ultimate goal is to assist your team to increase your company's business performance and lower your business risk by providing:

- Interpretation of complex subject matter for others to make well-informed decisions
- Leadership that is not overbearing and is agile to assimilate within your company's culture
- Discipline to keep current initiatives on task while being "forward-looking"
- Easy access to our "vetted" business partners
